Kastrated Dawg – Strong Ale

Castrated livestock improves the strength and durability, which creates a bolder and more aggressive breed. Kastrated Dawg is an aggressively bold, while gentle and smooth. A big malt forward flavor is well balanced with an aggressive hop bitterness. All tongue with nothing to lick.

Chief Lightfoot – Irish Red

Every fall, Chief Lightfoot would adorn his full traditional garb and dance each Saturday afternoon. People would come from all over the world to watch and enjoy. His legacy is remembered in Foggy Noggin's Irish Red Ale. The reddish hue brings this quaffable ale to your attention, the smooth, rich, rounded malty back-bone warms your senses, and the hint of dry bitterness in the finish makes you wish you had another pint. I am Indian, I dance. This is my dance.

Oski Wow-Wow – Scotch Ale

Brewed in the olde Scottish traditional manner, Oski Wow-Wow is made with patience and love for the founders of this delicious beer style. The first 10% of the mash runnings are caramelized in the kettle, then liquified and added to the rest of the boil. Toffee and caramel flavors you have never tasted before are the result. Best enjoyed in Strawberry Canyon on a nice fall afternoon, you are sure to hear those enjoying the bounty of this special seasonal. One taste and you will shout - "Oski Wow-Wow!"

Butch's Brew – Brown Ale

Celebrating the fall harvest, Brown Ales have been a long awaited standard in the UK. Adding fresh roasted nuts to this rich beer, added an extra special character that only the finest breweries produced. Foggy Noggin embraces this tradition with the celebration from the local Palouse Hills. This traditional English Brown, has locally grown Pacific NW Hazelnuts that have been freshly roasted and added to the mash. The result, a rich malt forward beer - with a wonderful medley of sweet flavors that linger long in a dry pleasing finish. Thanks Butch!

Diablo del Sol – English Pale Ale

Sparky would be proud of this incredible interpretation of an English Pale Ale. This beer has a bold hoppy aroma that will warn you to apply sunscreen and put on your sunglasses. A huge amount of hops are added to the end of the boil to make this beer pop. Nice balance with a rich malty sweetness and floral aggressive hoppy presence will have you thinking Spring is already here. ¡Salud!
